What did you learn about leadership from completing this field experience? How did this learning relate to the knowledge, skills and dispositions required of an educational leader? How did it enhance your ability to lead? This field experience gave me the opportunity to step into a leadership role as a future data coach. An educational leader will ultimately be the data coach at their school or train others to be data coaches. As the data coach, I will have to lead the data team through the using data process.
Did (or could) this field experience impact student learning? If so, how? Ultimately, this field experience will impact student learning as the implementation of Data Teams will directly affect student achievement within the school.

How could this field experience be modified to make it more meaningful and relevant to aspiring educational leaders?

I would live this field experience as is because it is something that I think I will really get to use as a future data coach.
